Chapter 692 Blind Dating

"Mom, you raised me to be independent, to make my own decisions. Is my marriage what we are talking about. Nope Can I make the decision for myself? Vera, who had just managed to calm down, became furious again.

She put her hand to her forehead in anguish and said, "I'm afraid not. marriage is not a joke. We won't even let you marry one woman from a common family. Why do you think that Will I let you marry an orphan?

Garrett, she he doesn't deserve you."

"Did that woman threaten you with the child?" intervened Leo.

Garrett smiled bitterly and shook his head with disappointment "Of course not. I want to marry her because I love her. I've been chasing her for a long time and just agreed to be with me".

The words of his son. Leo's face too change. It seemed that none of them were willing to give in Vera and Leo exchanged a look and sigh.

"Oh, oh, we don't have to rush things. I'll find you some ladies from rich and noble families, and you will have blind dates with them. Maybe then you'll find the woman right for you."

Leo tried to compromise as much as he could.

If Garrett found someone prettier and better, he could give up the idea of marrying that orphan "I agree. You don't have to be stuck with that woman. Your dad and I are just doing this for your own good. You're going on a blind date tomorrow, and that is final."

Even though Garrett didn't want to go on a blind date, he didn't he had no choice but to do so. He was determined to marry Laney of all modes. So no matter what tricks you his parents played, his decision would not change.

The next day, Vera took Garrett to a restaurant to meet a lady from a of the richest families in the city.

Before they were through the door, Vera stopped at dry and reminded her son, "Be a gentleman. You Dad and I chose this girl after a careful consideration. Your father is our partner commercial. Be nice to her."

Vera knew her son like the back of her hand. If he wanted to resist, he would do everything in his power scope to do it.

"Any way at all" Garrett replied impatiently.

"Meeting this girl wouldn't change anything."

Without another word, he entered the restaurant and sat down the table reserved for them. The seated woman in front of him she was an absolute beauty.

Also, seemed infatuated with him.

During the meal, he kept inventing topics to keep the conversation going.

"What kind of women you like them?" the girl asked timidly and then playfully brushed her hair loose behind of the ear Garrett smiled, adjusted his glasses on the bridge. nose and replied, "I like women who are considerate and capable of caring for others the rest. You see, I have a pregnant girlfriend. She can't take care of herself, so I need someone to take care of her and the baby once We get married".

The girl was furious.

He rolled his eyes at her He glared at Garrett and stormed off.

You will see them watched from afar.

Seeing the girl go and Garrett chuckling to himself, guessed that he must have ruined the date on purpose.

On the following dates, Garrett used the same trick over and over again.

He believed that if all his appointments to blindly failed, her parents would eventually give her the reason.

At home, Laney was bored to death.

Used to go out whenever you feel bored.

But now, I couldn't go anywhere or do anything without feel sick Laney didn't have many friends.

And Janet, his only friend, I often had to travel between Seacisco and Barnes.

While Janet was at Barnes, Laney I would ask out.

Knowing that Laney was bored ever since she got pregnant, like good friend, Janet would spend all she could with her.

One day, they went shopping at the mall. They then proceeded to a restaurant to rest and have dinner.

Janet had been carrying two large bags Shopping He opened one of them, and it was full of baby clothes.

"We still don't know if the baby is a boy or a girl. What if we buy the kind of clothes wrong?" she asked worriedly.

Laney, who was also looking at the bags of purchase, he chuckled.

Maybe because was about to become a mother developed a maternal tenderness.

"Well, I like them. Children will not be able to notice the difference anyway, Garrett said that.."

Something caught his attention, causing him to stop.

in the middle of the sentence.

Confused, Janet followed her friend's gaze.

In the innermost part of the restaurant, Garrett was eating having dinner with a woman seemed from a noble family, the two chatted and They laughed as if they were the only ones in the restaurant.
